Eucor – The European Campus

The universities on the Upper Rhine are blazing new trails in cross-border cooperation in Europe with the trinational European Campus: together they form a research and educational area without borders and a European legal person as an EGTC (European Grouping for Territorial Cooperation).

The European Campus – vision and long-term goals:

- the submission of joint funding proposals as an autonomous entity in Germany, France, Switzerland, and Europe
- joint professorships, joint administrative personnel, joint service departments, joint doctoral candidates, joint students, joint research projects, and dual degrees
- common research infrastructures: a magnet for attracting the best young academics and international students
- a model project that is unique in the European research area and worthy of emulation by other cross-border regions
